

THE MORNING APPEAL.

TUESDAY.....MAY 7

SILVER IN THE ORIENT.

Teller of Colorado has this to say of the rise of silver in the Orient: "It must be borne in mind that labor has not fallen in China, Japan and other silver-standard countries, and that one ounce of silver bullion will buy as much labor now as it ever did. This is true also of all the domestic supplies and materials required for manufacturing in silver countries. It is also true of taxes and general charges that must be met by all manufacturers alike. In Europe, however, and in America, one ounce of silver bullion will buy only one-half as much labor or supplies and will discharge only one-half as much taxes and general charges. Under these conditions it is impossible for any European or American manufacturer to compete with manufacturers in the countries I have named. If we persist in giving the silver using countries of the world the advantage which they now possess by reason of cheap silver we will find in a few years the manufacturing of the world will be in the hands of the Asiatics, and they will export to gold-standard countries their products, and sell at prices quite impossible for the gold-standard manufacturers to meet."

The above is sound logic, but there are a class of men who will cling to the old parties and their gold standard, and until all of the workshops are closed before they will get it through their thick plates that silver means prosperity to the poor.

BOOMING NEVADA.

W. E. Smythe, editor of the Irrigation age, arrived here yesterday. He has been corresponding with Governor Jones on the subject of irrigation, and as a result, will attempt the organization of Colonial clubs in this State. The object of this organization is to issue books and other literature at the rate of two or three publications a week, setting forth facts about the climate, soil productions, industrial opportunities, etc., of the Western States. The members are to pay a nominal initiation fee of about fifty cents, and it is hoped by this means to maintain good permanent exhibits in New York, Boston and Chicago in addition to the literature which will be distributed broadcast, with the view of giving the people of the world a broad and comprehensive knowledge of the western half of our country. A writer will be engaged here and good results may be expected from this intelligent undertaking.

Mr. Smythe leaves for Carson Valley today in company with the Governor to talk State development to the ranchers of Douglas.

Mr. Smythe will address the people of Carson at a public meeting to be held at the Opera House on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

AS IT NOW STANDS.

The National game now stands 22 states for silver, 12 against and ten doubtful. The 22 silver states have 163 electoral votes, the 12 gold states 152 and the doubtful states 129. Necessary to choice, 223.

We can either win or throw the vote into the House.

Mixed Identity.

Mrs. Craven and Miss Craven of San Francisco spent yesterday in Carson and left last night for the Bay city.—News.

The ladies at the Arlington House who were so outrageously mixed up with Mrs. Craven by the blundering Enterprise, were Mrs. Baker and daughter, General Irish who has known Mrs. Baker for twenty years, vouches for the fact that she is Mrs. Baker.

E. B. Ball of this who knows Mrs. Craven well, says that the lady is not Mrs. Craven. Secretary of State Howell who used to go to school to Mrs. Craven in California, says that the lady at the Arlington House was not Mrs. Craven.

The testimony of these three witnesses ought to settle the question,

The Enterprise of Sunday morning in a telegram on the Durrant case, states in large headlines, that the defense will throw the crime onto a crazy man who has been intimate with both girls. The autopsy revealed that no one had ever been intimate with either girl and there was nothing in the dispatch to show that any claim of intimacy had been made.

The Enterprise of late has made a number of serious breaks in the direction of blasting women's characters, and should revise its columns a little more carefully.
